ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB ENDS YEAR LAST NIGHT

New Officers Installed at Final Meeting of Season in New Clubhouse

In bringing its year's meetings to a close last night, the Woman's club of Arcadia held the first installation of officers in its new clubhouse and also ended the first year of occupancy of the handsome new building which was opened formally the last July.

Mrs. Emma D. Meade, under whose regime the clubhouse was built, was paid high tribute for her capable administration, which brought to fruition, the realization of every club woman's dream, a building which is a meeting ground of community interests.

Acting as installing officer, Mrs. Meade inducted the officers for the coming year. Miss Marion Pike will head the organization, and her executive board will include Mrs. Emily Parke, first vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Tester, second vice-president; Mrs. Anne Lockwood, recording secretary; Mrs. Katherine Fischer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Laura Hostutler, treasurer, and Mrs. Viola Andrews, program chairman. Mrs. Meade automatically succeeds to the federation secretaryship. Elected as the new member of the directors' board was Mrs. Carl Randolph. The remaining members of the directors' group are Mrs. Nellie C. Pickard and Mrs. Nell Schrader.

According to detailed reports of committee heads and officers, the club has enjoyed a successful year the debt on the clubhouse has seen a satisfactory decrease and nearly $700 has been earned by the varied activities, such as benefit plays bridge luncheons, dinners served for other organizations and similar methods of raising funds. The club also received several lovely gifts during the year. The sale of chairs also brought a large sum, which was included in this revenue.

The Literature section presented the club with a much-needed table and chair. Mrs. Marion B. Gramm, chairman of the group, made the presentation at last night's meeting. The Garden section has donated several useful gifts to the club, among these being a garden hose, and members of this section recently planted [illegible] which has improved the appearance of the grounds.

Mrs. Maye Dunham, who for four years served as president of the club, and has since been partly inactive because of ill health, was presented with a life membership in behalf of her unusual services. Mrs. Dunham was president during 1922, 1923, 1925 and 1926.

The auditorium, which was gay with flowers at the opening of the meeting, resembled a florist's shop before the close of the program, as the retiring and incoming president and members of the two executive boards were presented with baskets and bouquets. Mrs. Pike also gave each member of the incoming and outgoing executives a corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Meade was presented with a beautiful silver pitcher, the gift of her executive board, Mrs. Ethel Watson making the presentation speech.

Mrs. L. R. Peek, retiring program chairman, who during a period of many years has been responsible for the fine attractions on the programs, was paid tribute.

Under her direction the program last night held its usual high standard. Irving Fiebelkorn, widely

Open Meeting Friday Night Arcadia Club

An open meeting tomorrow evening will feature the closing session of the Woman's club of Arcadia replacing the customary year's-end luncheon of that organization. Husbands of members and friends will be guests for the evening, according to Mrs. Emma D. Meade, retiring president.

Mrs. L. R. Peek, program chairman, has arranged a musical program, including numbers by the Arcadia Octette, a group of club members. Preceding the program there will be a brief business meeting, which will include reports of officers and committee chairmen for the past year.

Following this Mrs. Meade will install the incoming officers and turn over the gavel to her successor, Mrs. Harry H. Pike.

A social hour will follow and members of the social committee will serve refreshments. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Meade will be Mrs Olive Hoffman, Mrs. Helene Huxley Mrs. J. F. Sims, Mrs. E .W. Cline and Mrs. Mae Brown. Mrs. Mae Dunham, one of the past-presidents will be especially honored during the program.

The two years of Mrs. Meade's administration have been marked by a gratifying increase in membership, especially notable in a time when so many clubs are losing members, and it was under her leadership that the new clubhouse was built.

The building was formally dedicated and opened just after the close of the club year last July, and tomorrow night will witness the first

Woman's Club Garden Bridge Party Ends Summer Season

The summer bridge season of the Arcadia Woman's club fittingly came to a close yesterday with a dessert-bridge party given by the ways and means committee at the home of Mrs. Ethel M. DeGaw on South Santa Anita avenue, with approximately seventy-five guests attending from Monrovia, Arcadia, Temple City and Los Angeles.

Dessert and bridge tables were artistically arranged in the gardens and porch and were made especially attractive with vases of early fall flowers on covers of pastel hues.

Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. William Welch, of Monrovia, first; Mrs. Pauline Crater, second; Mrs. Elsie Murfett, third; and Mrs. A. Harn, consolation, all of Arcadia. Mrs. Roy Frederickson was the lucky winner of a beautiful table cloth and napkin set given by Bullock's.

Those responsible for the pleasant event were: Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman of the committee; Mrs. DeGaw, Mrs. K. C. Wisniewski, Mrs. Florence Muller, Mrs. Catherine Fischer, Mrs. H. S. Brookover, Mrs. Mark Millspaugh, Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mrs. Charles Seger, Mrs. Ralph Sparks, Mrs. John Renshaw, and Mrs. Ella Baughman.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN NAMED BY MRS. PIKE

Active Year Planned By Arcadia Woman's Club Department Leaders

ARCADIA, Sept. 4.—With the first club meeting scheduled to take place Wednesday, October 4, the Arcadia Woman's Club is looking forward to an active year under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Pike and her board.

One of the innovations will be the issuing of bulletins instead of the customary year book. A bulletin will be issued every three months. According to Mrs. Pike, this is considered by other clubs to be advantageous, especially to the program chairman, not necessitating the planning of programs so far in advance, and eliminating possible last minute changes.

Department Chairmen

Those appointed as department chairmen are: crafts and industries, Mrs. Tester; parliamentary law, Mrs. Pickard; conservation, Miss McCurdy; international interest, Mrs. Stewart; home gardens, Mrs. John Sims; moving pictures, Mrs. Ray; welfare and philanthropy, Mrs. Baughman; co-operation with war veterans, Mrs. Walter Lockwood; literature, Mrs. George Dimitry; music, Mrs. Gramm; federation chairman, Mrs. Pickard. There are still two or three departments lacking chairmen; these will soon be named.

Standing Committee

Standing committee chairmen named are: Ways and means, Mrs. Charles Willey; social, Mrs. James Brown; membership, Miss McCurdy; welfare, Mrs. Baughman; press, Mrs. Ray; music, Mrs. Gramm; courtesy, Mrs. Richard Evans; decorations, Mrs. C. F. Noack; door, Mrs. A. Parker.

Woman's Club Opens Summer Season with Dessert Bridge

Framed in the pleasant lawns and patio of the home of Mrs. Charles Willey, West Duarte road, the first dessert bridge lawn party of the Ways and Means section of the Arcadia Woman's club was held Wednesday afternoon.

More than ninety guests enjoyed the festivities, which began with the service of dessert at the twenty-two umbrella tables which dotted the lawns. An atmosphere of gay informality prevailed, the summer costumes of guests contrasting with the colorful decorations of gladioli and delphinium in cleverly placed baskets about the grounds.

Mrs. Rosella Barker Frye of Hollywood was the singer for the occasion, giving "The Crying of the Water," and "My Laddie" and "At Dawning" as encores. Mrs. Lawrence R. Peck served as accompanist.

The first of a series of social functions for the summer months, Wednesday's party was as great a success as could be hoped, and members of the committee in charge were congratulated for the beauty and spirit of the party. Mrs. Charles Willey, who has been serving as Ways and Means chairman this year, was assisted by Mrs. John Renshaw, Mrs. Floyd Tester, Mrs. G. G. Meade, Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. Stella Brookover, Mrs. Marian Pike, Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mrs. Evelina Pike.

Guests included Mesdames and Misses Florence Muller, Anne Cannon, Carrie Remmers, Jean Hinman, Sara B. Ray, Anna J. Seger, Helen Sparks, Olwen Covell, Gladys Murfett, Edith J. Bartron, Luella L. ## 'Al Fresco' Party Wed. Attracted More Than One Hundred Ladies

Colorful unmbrellas advantageously placed on the lawn and patio at the home of Mrs. Charles Willey Wednesday lent a charming atmosphere to the very successful bridge party given by the ways and means committee of the Woman's Club. Baskets of gladioli, snapdragons, and other summer blossoms added their beauty, blending in with the guests' summery dresses.

The affair, a dessert-bridge, started about one-thirty, ladies being seated at small tables, each centered with bud vases of sweet peas, pastel hued nut cups complementing the attractive setting. During the dessert hour Roselie Barker Frye of Hollywood sang several numbers, in her rich voice, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. R. Peck.

Prizes were donated by Mrs. Jack Snodgrass, Dr. Cullen, Arcadia Hardware, Mrs. William Brandt, Mrs. H. S. Brookover and Mrs. Fred Koors who gave two. Cake donors were: Mrs. A. N. # Federation Women Announce Booth at Pomona During Fair

Headed by the Los Angeles District of California Federation of Women's Clubs, club leaders and club members throughout the Southland will take an active interest and part in the combined Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside county fair in Pomona, September 15 to 24, according to reports from fair officials. Last year the Federation maintained a "hot dog" stand at the fair and the venture was so successful from a financial standpoint that it was decided that the venture should be repeated. The women have a spacious booth beside the broad passage leading to the grandstand. The stand was the center of a happy gathering during the exposition.

Not far away Pomona Ebell will maintain a similar booth where sandwiches, coffee and cold drinks will be dispensed. Committees have been appointed for each day. A crew will remain at the clubhouse constantly manufacturing the sandwiches and baking pies.

Club women are also taking a very important part in the conduct of the exposition. The arts and crafts industry section is headed by a woman well known in club and arts circles. She is Miss Leta Horlocker of Los Angeles. The domestic arts division, one of the main subdivisions of the exposition, is headed by a charter member of Pomona Ebell, Mrs. Fred W. Niedermeyer. She has been in charge of the department with its 1000 different classifications since the inception of the fair a dozen years ago and it is largely due to her untiring zeal and labor that the department has been such an outstanding success. Each subdivision of the domestic arts section is headed by women whose activities in club work have made them proficient handling the work.

Assisting Mrs. Niedermeyer as clerks are Mrs. Hugh T. Thatcher, wife of Supervisor Hugh H. Thatcher of Walnut; Mrs. W. E. Stevens, Mrs. Charles Elder and Mrs. Ralph Harvey.

Other subdivisions in the department and the women who head them follow:

Class No. 1, with Mrs. C. W. Guerin and M. L. Robinson in charge will feature all infants' articles, white embroidery such as center pieces, dresser scarfs, vanity cases, table covers, table linen and miscellaneous articles.

Class No. 2, with Mrs. Bert Harvey andMrs. George Amberson in charge will include colored embroidery under the subheads of dresser scarfs, pillow cases, vanity and buffet sets, lunch and bridge sets and table covers and runners.

Class No. 3, lace work, crochet and knitting with Mrs. Lowell Decker and Miss Geraldine McKey in charge.

Clas No. 4, bedspreads, quilts and afghans with Mrs. Ellen Mashmeyer, Mrs. J. M. Paige and Mrs. C. O. Werner in charge.

Class No. 5, this is a new department devoted entirely to rugs. Formerly the rugs were included in another department. Mrs. Fred Palmer and Mrs. Anson Thomas in charge.

Class No. 6, pillows and bags under the supervision of Mrs. Charles Walker and Mrs. B.W. Belsley.

Class No. 7, arts and crafts for amateurs only,under supervision of Mrs. Herbert B. Martin and Mrs. Kenneth Graham. This class includes woven reed work, pine needle work, raffia work, hand tooled leather, carved and inlaid wood, lamp shades, pottery, miscellaneous weaving an miscellaneous

ARCADIA CLUB WOMEN OPEN ACTIVITIES

Arcadia club women will not forget the charm and beauty of the tragic story of "Madam Butterfly" as depicted yesterday by Lovetta Hicks Pratt of Sierra Madre at the club's opening program of the season.

In her beautiful silk kimona and obe, feet clad inthe soft Japanese gettas, with the atmosphereic music and stage setting. Mrs. Hicks dramatized the sad but beautiful story to a fascinated audience. It was beautiful and completely satisfying. The club members expressed their thanks to the club program chairman, Mrs. Mattie B. Peck in securing the taleted dramatic reader for the program.

Before the curtain was drawn, Mrs. Lola Trew, soprano, sang selections from the Opera. Madam Butterfly. During Mrs. Pratts presentation of the story, atmospheric music from Puccini's famous opera was played by Myrtle McMullen Hill, pianist of Sierra Madre who programs with Mrs. Pratt.

The family altar of Buddish with the lighted candles and gift of flowers, the oriental silk hangings, the cherry blossoms beside the open window with its flood of light and garden beyond, formed the perfect setting for the sad story so vividly portrayed by dramatic recitalist.

The program was preceeded by the luncheon and business meeting. The luncheon committee responsible for the success of that part of the program comprised Mrs. Margaret Tester, Mrs. Mae Glover, Mrs. Alice Osborn, Mrs. John Sims, Mrs. Ralph Sparks Mrs. Clara Herkner, Mrs. Harn, Mrs. Remp, Mrs. Pauline Crader, Mrs. H. H. Whitten and Mrs. Frisbe of Temple City Woman's club were introduced guests, as were severa others.

The club is to purchase fifty new song books for use in club meetings. Mrs. Marion Gramm is music chairman this year and Mrs. Lulu Reynolds will assist as club accompanist.

Late in November the club is to give a big evening party and the proceeds are to be used to subscribe for federation magazines which will be sent to every club member as the result of a special offer.

Mrs. Marion Pike presided over the cub meeting and expressed her pleasure in the fine start that the cub has made for her second year as president.

Series Of Bridge Parties Will Be Feature Of Year's Activities

ARCADIA, Oct. 5.—Directors and officers of the Arcadia Woman's Club were presented yesterday by Mrs. Harry H. Pike, president, at the organization's first meeting of the club season. The meeting opened with a luncheon arranged by Mrs. Margaret Tester and her committee, which included Mrs. Henrietta Anderson, Mrs. Florence Brandt, Mrs. Pauline Crader, Mrs. Alice J. Cross, Mrs. May Glover, ner, Mrs. Flor- alph D. Sparks, . Mrs. Aurolyn F. Sims, Mrs. e Newhall. Fleet Palm- wo being District Chairmen, were hostesses at the luncheon.

luncheon opened with the entire membership singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," with Mrs. Lulu Reynolds accompanying. Mrs. Marion Gramm lead the singers.

Committees Report

During the luncheon Mrs. Nellie C. Pickard, federation secretary, gave an interesting talk relative to the merits of the Federation Monthly. During the business meeting which followed committee reports were given and decision was made to order song books for the music department. It was voted to hold evening bridge parties during November, proceeds to go toward obtaining subscriptions to the Federation magazine.

Music Enjoyed

The afternoon program included the presentation of "Madam Butterfly" by Lovetta Hicks Pratt, with Mrs. Lola True singing the aria "One Fine Day."
